School winners mix old and new

By Meg Tebo
Staff writer

Voters in each of the three local school districts turned out in Tuesday's election to choose four members for each board.

In Granite City District 9, only 66 votes separated a winner from a loser. Pete Novacich, a newcomer to the school board, defeated Dewey Melton, a former board member, by a tally of 1,887 to 1,821 votes.

All the results are unofficial totals from the office of Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

"We were close but not quite good enough. I want to thank sincerely everyone who put forth effort in my behalf," Melton told a group of supporters gathered at the Mexican Honorary Commission headquarters.

Debbie Holt-Wilkerson, a two-year incumbent on the board, garnered the highest vote total with 2,318. Her victory was somewhat bittersweet, however, because she had campaigned heavily with Melton and was disappointed that he didn't also win.

"My heart was in this for Dewey as much as for me. I just want to say I couldn't have done it without you all," Holt-Wilkerson said with tears in her eyes.

The atmosphere at the Knights of Columbus Hall was decidedly more upbeat, where supporters of winners Monroe Worthen, Mark Eavenson and Pete Novacich gathered to await the tallies. Several dozen people sporting campaign buttons cheered and whistled as the final results were read.

"I'm elated. I can't wait to get started," said Eavenson. Novacich admitted that he "was nervous" about the tight race between himself and Melton.

"This was my first time at something like this and I was scared... Thank you all," Novacich told the crowd at the KC Hall.

Worthen, a District 9 school board member who has served continuously for nearly 30 years, addressed the crowd after posing for photos with Eavenson and Novacich, their raised hands were clasped together in a show of solidarity and victory.

"Each election is new and different. I'll remember this one for a long time because there were so many good people who came out for me and did the job. That's what it takes," said Worthen.

He was second in the vote totals with 2,283. Eavenson was third with 2,162.

Jeff Parker, appointed by the board last year to replace Ramsey Rich, who had resigned, ran sixth with 1,566. He attributed

Boy Scout's training helped him save sister

By Maxine Dunlham
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Mike Kaminski, 12, of West Pontoon Road might find a little something extra in his Christmas stocking this year. Heroes should.

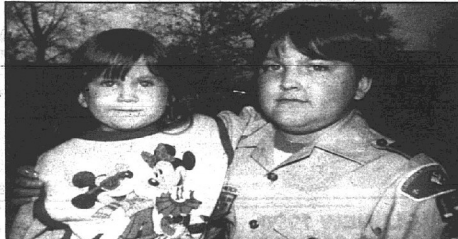

Young Mike saved his little sister's life. On Nov. 2, he used a first aid technique he had learned a few months ago in the Boy Scouts to dislodge a piece of Halloween candy from the windpipe of 3-year-old Jean Marie.

The technique — called the Heimlich maneuver — consists of reaching from behind the victim with clenched and linked hands and thrusting upward suddenly. The movement is supposed to force air up the airway, dislodging whatever is stuck there.

The children's mother, Donna Kaminski, doesn't recall how long the ordeal lasted. "The girls away from you" in such moments, she said.

The family was getting ready for parent-teacher conferences that evening. Suddenly, Jean Marie ran into a back room. Another brother, Jason, 9, heard her choking and brought her into the dining room, patting her back.

Donna remembers Jason saying, "Mom, something's wrong!" She continued: "Her hands went limp and her body started going down. I got excited. Then Mike did the abdominal thrust and it was all over in a few minutes."

Jean Marie and Mike Kaminski

"He knew not to do it as hard as you would on an adult. He said, 'I'll just do this real soft.'"

"I was real proud of him." Afterward, says Donna, Mike told her, "Oh, thank God, Mom! I'm glad I knew this or we wouldn't have Jean Marie right now."

Mike is in the seventh grade at Grigsby Junior High School and is a First Class Boy Scout in Scoutmaster Norman Richter's Troop 14 at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church on National Avenue.

He learned the Heimlich maneuver earlier this year while earning his first aid merit badge in the Boy Scouts. He received his training from merit badge counselor Mike Sikora.

According to the American Red Cross, 2,000-plus deaths occur in the United States each year from choking. Two-thirds of those reported are in children under the age of 4.

Mike's father is Michael Kaminski, a mechanic at a St. Louis bottling company, Beverage Concepts. The Kaminskis and their five children reside at 1369 West Pontoon Road.

Without young Mike and his Boy Scout training, the Kaminskis might only have four children now.

Village library plan defeated

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — The village will continue to operate its free library as long as possible, Mayor Glen Wilson said Wednesday.

Voters on Tuesday turned down a 15-cent tax rate to support a public library district in Pontoon Beach.

Unofficial totals show Pontoon Beach voters cast 93 votes for and 150 against the proposal.

Approval would have added a tax of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation, or $15 a year for a house valued at $30,000 and assessed at one-third its market value, $10,000.

Wilson was disappointed in the tight turnout for the election, as well as rejection of the plan, but said the loss was not unexpected.

"In a way, I expected it," he said. "Whenever you talk to some people about taxes you get that negative result and we don't get a very good turnout for school board elections."

"If they'd stopped to think they would have seen this was for 15 cents against paying 50 cents. They'll be holding that election in March, I guess," Wilson said.

Residents of the Granite City School District, which includes the city of Granite City, the village of Pontoon Beach and unincorporated areas, will vote next spring on whether or not to form a library district conforming to the school district boundary line.

Granite City residents currently pay 29.7 cents per $100 assessed valuation to support the Granite City Public Library, Assessor Darlene Laub said.

Persons living outside the city limits can pay a non-resident fee to utilize library services.

Wilson said that Tuesday's vote is "a setback but we are not giving up on our free library. We will hold on as long as possible. We tried; that's all I can say. Maybe it wasn't presented properly; I don't know. I'm willing to let it die."

Approval would have allowed the village to qualify for state funds and grants and join the Lewis and Clark Library System, which would have provided an additional 1,500 books per year, Robbie Wilson, Pontoon Library Board president, said last week.

The village has been operating a free library staffed by volunteers at 5 Oakmont Plaza Shopping Center on Pontoon Road since Oct. 1.

The hours of operation are from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturdays.

GRANITE CITY — An investigation is continuing today into the cause of a suspicious fire that destroyed two vehicles and the home of Henrietta Mitchell in the 400 block of Braden Avenue at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A deliberately set fire also was discovered under the porch at the same 1½-story residence in the early morning of Nov. 1, when an odor of kerosene was detected. And a car parked at the home was burned in the early hours of Oct. 8.

Friends of the Mitchell family have told the Press-Record/Journal that they believe there is a connection between the fires and the October sentencing of Henrietta's son, Edward T. Mitchell.

The younger Mitchell was sentenced in October to serve 90 days in jail and two years of

Leak shows hole in disaster plan

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A leak in a railroad car yesterday in the northern sector of the city spotlighted a potentially serious problem with the city's emergency response system.

There is no way of evacuating an area of the city short of knocking on doors and using bullhorns, said Fire Chief Charlie Bernaix. By that time, it could be too late.

Bernaix said he had been investigating the possibility of the city installing an emergency telephone system that could automatically call all numbers within specific areas of the city in the event of chemical emergencies.

The Shell refinery in Wood River has such a system, he said, but "it costs a lot."

The leak was discovered in a tank car by a Norfolk & Southern Railway switchman sometime between 11:30 and 11:55 a.m., according to different accounts by two railroad employees. It was on a spur between Illinois Route 3 and the extension of Missouri Avenue, adjacent to the A.O. Smith Corp. and Capri-Sun plants.

The Granite City Fire Department was called at 12:17 p.m.

By 12:30 p.m., fire officials with binoculars got within several hundred yards of the car and were able to read the hazardous code placard on it.

A chemical emergency codebook narrowed the identity of the chemical down to one of 10 substances and gave the recommended responses for each.

The worst-case scenario called for an evacuation of a half-mile area downwind from the spill. Chief Bernaix said. But he said he was reluctant to do that until he knew whether the chemical was still leaking.

The chemical, manufactured by Pennwalt Corp. of Houston, was eventually identified as ter-dodecanethiol, a mildly toxic, viscous yellow liquid with a smell like rotten eggs, according

Vandalism continues

GRANITE CITY — Vandalism continues to target parked vehicles in the downtown area.

Amy Hoffstot of the 2700 block of Whippoorwill Lane reported Monday that a vandal damaged her car while it was parked behind Taco Bell, 3685 Nameoki Road. Oil was dumped on the driver's seat and down the door, two tires were cut and profanity was printed on a window.

Five drivers whose cars were in a parking lot at the offices of Dr. Melvin J. Freedman, 2025 Edison Ave., reported damage to windshield wipers. They were Edwina Garrett of the 1000 block of Fourth Street, Venice, who said two wipers costing $100 were torn off her car; Mary Arney of the 2400 block of Pine Street, rear windshield wiper worth $50 removed; Erin L. Androski of the 3800 block of Rodney Drive, Pontoon Beach, two wipers worth $100; Dolores Turner of Granite City, two wipers valued at $100 missing; and Caroline Champion of the 1600 block of Fourth Street, Madison, who reported two wipers stolen from her auto.

Also on Monday, Douglas Robertson of the 2800 block of Lincoln Avenue reported a vandal poured sugar into his gas tank and also stole the gas cap from his auto, and Denver B. Goodwin of the 2500 block of The Anchorage said his gas tank also had sugar poured into the tank and the gas cap was taken.

Keith Miles of the 2500 block of Grand Avenue said the right front tire on his auto was punctured, apparently with an ice pick, and Ted Yeager also of the 2500 block of Grand said his car parked in the driveway had a tire slashed with a knife. Louis Brusatti reported Monday that a vandal shot at and damaged an $1,100 business sign, firing at it from a passing vehicle. The sign was located at his business at 2109 Johnson Road.

On Tuesday, Lucy Hoffman of the 400 block of Kirkpatrick Homes said a front tire was punctured on her car, and Frank Hollenbeck of the 500 block of Kirkpatrick Homes said three pickup truck tires were punctured.

Battery charged

GRANITE CITY — It took five policemen to subdue a man who allegedly beat one relative and threatened another early Saturday. Relatives did not press charges, so police charged John J. Christoff Jr., with several counts arising from the struggle.

At about 1:15 a.m., police were summoned to a home in the 2700 block of Grand Avenue. A woman had received multiple head contusions.

The man, 6-feet-5 and weighing 230 pounds, allegedly an arm injury, and more officers were summoned.

One policeman was kicked in the groin, another suffered an arm injury, and the man grabbed for a policeman's gun. He was unaffected by an electric "stun gun."

Christoff was charged with battery and resisting arrest.

The boy was released to the custody of his father on a notice to appear for a hearing on the cannabis charge, and posted an individual bond on the driving charge.

$3,000 machine stolen

A high-pressure washer valued at $3,000 was stolen from Soechtig Tractor Repair, 3133 Old Highway 3, it was reported Nov. 3 by Norman Soechtig. The equipment was mounted on a single axle and was removed from the garage area.

Three or four men would have been needed to load and carry the equipment away.

Venice warrant served

Miranda L. Williams, 19, of the Venice Homes was served a Venice warrant in Granite City in early November. It alleged failure to appear on an allegation of battery.

Burglar takes recorder

Nancy Watkins of the 2300 block of Lincoln Avenue reported Nov. 1 that a burglar entered her residence and stole a video cassette recorder valued at $300.

Magna banks to merge next year

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — As part of a continuing streamlining of its banking operations, the Magna Group of banks will merge its Granite City and Wood River operations on Jan. 1, 1990, said

Melvin Wilmsmeyer, chairman and president of the bank here. Wilmsmeyer will hold those posts in the merged operation. Existing banking facilities will remain in operation. The new bank will be called Magna Bank of Madison County and will have combined assets of about $300 million, Wilmsmeyer said — two-thirds of that from the Granite City bank.

Wilmsmeyer said the combined operation will not result in employee layoffs. In fact, he said, more employees will probably be needed "because of expanded services."

He said the merged bank will strengthen its residential and construction lending in the Wood River area.

Philippians 6:12 "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Our lives might be somewhat simpler if we realized and acknowledged the fact that the powers of darkness are in battle against God. We wrestle not against flesh and blood. It is not our neighbor we must be on guard against. It is Satan and his demons.

We are not in a battle against progress and the changes it will bring. There is no battle between the old and the new. But, there is a battle against the false and the true.

We cannot compromise the gospel of Christ. We cannot change the truth. His truth is the truth that sets men free.

Righteousness can never be at peace with unrighteousness. Fight Satan and his kingdom. Be at peace with your neighbor and with God. Today.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes one parent will be awarded custody of a minor child at the time of a divorce, but a subsequent change of circumstances will take place. The non-custodial parent may desire a change of custody based on this new set of considerations. Illinois law has established a special set of requirements to change custody if the change in circumstances occurs within two years of a custody judgment.

Illinois law states that no motion to modify a custody judgment may be made earlier than two years after it is entered unless affidavits are filed showing that there is reason to believe the child's present environment may endanger seriously his physical, mental, moral or emotional health. In addition, to modify custody within two years the court must find by clear and convincing evidence that a change has occurred in the circumstances of the child or his custodian and that the modification is necessary to serve the best interest of the child.

In one recent case, a father was awarded custody of his daughter at the time of the divorce. Six months after the most recent court order, an incident took place with regard to his daughter. The father witnessed his daughter's fall on the steps of her day care center. Later that evening, the father "popped" her several times with a belt. When the mother was bathing the girl the next evening, she noticed a large bruise on the girl's buttocks.

The mother filed a petition to modify custody of the girl. She attached an affidavit alleging that her daughter received bruises when her father struck her with a belt. The trial court found by clear and convincing evidence that a change had occurred in the circumstances of the minor child in that she was severely bruised on the buttocks by her father, the child had expressed a preference to live with the mother, and the mother had remarried and established a suitable home to raise the child. The court concluded it was in the best interest of the child that her custody be awarded to her mother.

The father appealed the trial court's decision, alleging that his daughter had later changed her prior allegation that he had abused her. The Appellate Court, however, affirmed the decision of the trial court, noting that the child, the court concluded it was in the best interest of the child that her custody be awarded to her mother.

Rules needed to be changed

There can be little solace offered to a grieving parent, particularly one who has fallen victim not only to a child but also to the wobbly wheels of justice.

But a rule change made recently in Madison County Circuit Court is at least a partial solution to the problems that surfaced recently in the dismissal of reckless homicide charges against an East St. Louis woman.

Elisa Smith was freed when a judge ruled that the prosecution failed to bring her case to trial in a prompt, fair manner. Smith had been arrested for the hit-and-run death of 16-year-old Darren Elliot of Granite City last June, but Smith's case didn't come to trial in the state-mandated 120-day period.

Madison County State's Attorney Bill Haine blasted the Madison County Public Defender's Office, which he felt took unfair advantage of the time limit after it had orally agreed to delays along the way.

Haine was further angered when Associate Judge Lawrence Keshner refused to reverse the dismissal of charges. An appeal has since been filed.

It seems to us that both sides are at fault in this case, and the only one suffering is the family and friends of Darren Elliot.

Haine was wrong. His office is responsible for administering law enforcement in a timely manner. Informal agreements on docket continuances are fine if they are supplemented by something in writing. That didn't happen in this case.

However, Madison County has learned a lesson. Circuit Judge Edward Ferguson last week agreed to change docket rules to make continuances attributable to the defense, when both sides agree. That makes sense: cases are often delayed not by incompetence but by the sheer volume of cases in the legal system. When both sides cannot get to a case because of lack of time, delays should not be solely attributable to the state's attorney.

Some ill words were stated by both sides in this case, and it is unfortunate. That should be put to rest. It is best to forge ahead, trying to relieve the ever-burdening case load in the circuit court, and trying not to relive the kind of case that will long haunt the family of Darren Elliot.

Hospice beginning 2nd decade

November is Hospice Month and it seems appropriate to comment on the Hospice of Madison County, which observed its tenth anniversary in October.

Based in Granite City, Madison County Hospice was launched with a series of meetings and training sessions combined with recruiting of volunteers. A natural source of volunteers was the group that most understand the need for a hospice — relatives of cancer victims.

The concept involves easing the final months for those whose illness has been determined to be incurable. Indefinite hospital stays would be costly and also would limit patients' contact with their homes and their families.

As recalled by Sister Mary Thomas, board chairman of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, volunteers quickly became dedicated helpers because they could see how the program fostered more meaningful lives, no matter how short those lives might be. "People gave of their time so that the patients ... could experience as much fullness of life as they were capable in their last days."

Soon, Madison County Hospice was serving Granite City, Madison, Pontoon Beach, Alton, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Highland and other cities. Dr. Shabbir Safdar and Betty Safdar were among the founders. Others included Nina Millett, Thomas Holloway, Imogene MacClatchey and the Rev. Charlotte Zachary. A full honor roll of those who joined them would number in the hundreds.

Pioneering in home care bolstered by visits by health personnel and laymen, Madison County Hospice not only has directly aided 800 families but also has been an example for similar organizations elsewhere. Only 13 years after the idea arrived in the United States, more than 1,700 hospices are actively serving their communities.

It's for the kids; see you Nov. 16

It's for kids. Kids who need a helping hand.

It's for the kids of the Metro East and all other areas of the bi-state St. Louis metropolitan area.

The funds go to agencies that work directly with youngsters in a variety of service, recreational, health, character-building and activity programs.

All the funds remain within the bi-state area to provide or to advance needed, tangible, wholesome projects.

And the money that goes to those hometown agencies represents the full amount of the contributions for this special, one-day, one-year fund-raising effort. No administrative costs or any other costs are deducted. Absolutely nothing comes off the top. Every dollar given provides a full 100 cents for causes that have been thoroughly reviewed and found justified.

What we're talking about is the Old Newsboys Day special newspaper edition that will be sold on the morning of Thursday, Nov. 16.

We don't want to toot our own horn, but we do want to toot the horn of this idea, now in its fourth decade and universally praised for its intent and its effectiveness.

The Suburban Journals, the Suburban Newspapers of Greater St. Louis, are the sponsor and we're happy that this year, because we're a part of SNGSL, we'll be out there with many other Metro-East residents Thursday as Old Newsboys Day solicitors and contributors. See you on the street corner, and don't let the wind or weather stop you.

Superintendent clarifies hiring

To the editor:

I felt the recent article on hiring methods in the School District excluded many facts involved in the process, facts that need to be aired.

In addition, I found the quote attributed to me disturbing. I certainly did not tell anyone that experience as a substitute plays no role in our employment process. Actually stated, it does play an important role but does not overshadow experience with other employers or other qualifications.

I stated we had recently employed an executive secretary who was working full time outside the district. Obviously, she was not substituting in our district, and I tried to use this as an example that people have a variety of experience of great value. Frequently, that experience cannot come from employment in the Granite City schools.

In regard to the recent employment of cafeteria workers, there are 128 applicants for cafeteria positions and 52 of these have been approved for substitute work and do substitute on a rotating basis. Totally by chance, these candidates for employment were interviewed for your article as asked by the School District to put her name back on the substitute rotation list.

The fact that their name appeared at a certain time in the rotation system makes them neither a better nor a less candidate than others on the substitute list.

On the night the board employed nine for cafeteria positions, board policy was carefully followed. District policy states the administration should provide three names for the first vacancy and one name for each additional vacancy.

In this instance, after discussions with our lead ladies, the director of food services submitted to me the names of 12 applicants currently substituting in our cafeterias. I submitted those names to the Board of Education for consideration.

We also indicated that the other ladies on the approved substitute list were good candidates and that they had good recommendations from the cafeteria lead ladies for whom they had worked.

I can assure you that each person employed had good recommendations, good work ethics, and other attributes that should make them good employees. I also wish to emphasize that each person employed will reward our confidence in them by good job performance.

It should be noted that one person who was offered a position did not accept because she had been selected by another employer for full-time work and our positions were for only four hours per day.

None of this is meant to detract from any person not hired, as we have many more qualified applicants than positions. As people retire or advance to other positions, we hope to be able to give many other deserving people the opportunity for regular employment.

I should also note that the lady interviewed for your article was asked by the School District to put her name back on the substitute rotation list.

I am sure those who were employed are grateful, feel they deserved the consideration, and are also sorry everyone couldn't be hired. The Board of Education simply cannot hire everyone who seeks employment with the district and the members are frequently criticized by those who aren't employed.

I think the community should be thankful that the school district always tries to turn down management companies who would like to bring in their employees to run our cafeterias and custodial operation.

GILBERT V. WALMSLEY
Superintendent, District 9

Rep. Costello making right moves

To the editor:

U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello hit the hammer on the nail. His efforts to improve the region by promoting rural economic development show that a professional leader with the proper experience can do wonders with a kind of politics he first taught Illinoisans.

Costello is the only man with the background and experience to answer the district's needs. As a pro-family advocate, he has proven we have morally good Democrats in office just as we have morally good Republicans in office.

Flatboats brought settlers here, carried their farm produce to market

Second of two columns
To mark the Madison County Museum's Nov. 5 anniversary program, we discussed last week the county's early history, dating back to 1750.

It was noted that "in 1801, the first settlers located in Six Mile Prairie — Patrick Hanniberry and Mr. Wiggins."

DESPITE ILLNESSES and other dangers, the migration continued. In 1802, Dr. George Caldwell and John Messenger brought their families by boat to what is now Granite City.

Originally from Connecticut, Caldwell was attracted by the fertile, unploughed soil. He chose to combine the practice of medicine with tilling the earth of the American Bottoms.

Next to arrive was a group of Pennsylvanians, the Kinners, Bradens and Hawks families.

They boarded flatboats in West Virginia and drifted down the Ohio to the Mississippi, building a number of cabins here.

of a band of Potawatamie Indians, and his party were returning homeward from Cahokia to the Chicago area.

"They fell in with two men named Dennis and Van Meter at the foot of the Mississippi River bluff of five miles southwest of Edwardsville and murdered them," a historian wrote.

"The country contained very few inhabitants above Cahokia. Turkey Foot, seeing the Americans extending their new settlements toward his country, was angered by these settlements."

Due to Indians' hostility, special strongholds and defenses, including forts and blockhouses, were built by pioneers in this region, particularly in 1795-1815.

THE CILLIHER FAMILY and the Whitesides began to arrive in Madison County in large numbers and became dominant in county elections. Samuel Judy was the first representative elected to the Territorial Legislature and William Jones was the second.

In 1803, Samuel Joel Whiteside surveyors were John Messenger, William Rector, F.H. Mosberger and J.M. Moore.

The playings in 1802 were recalled vividly on a late Sunday afternoon, July 10, 1814, when Indians massacred settlers at Wood River.

The victims were the wife and two children of Reuben Reagan, two children of William Moore and two sons of Abel Moore. At the time, some of the local men had been on ranger duty while others were at a church service.

THE FRONTIER'S LURE nevertheless attracted more and more people, and this county's population totaled 5,256 when Illinois became a state in 1818.

Venice, now officially 111 years old as a municipality, traces its past all the way to the heart of Madison County became a county, 1812, six years before Illinois gained statehood.

Shortly before the outbreak of the War of 1812, John Atkins moved to Venice from Kentucky.

ATKINS WAS PRESENT AT

the signing in 1814 of the peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain, at Portage des Sioux on the Missouri side of the Mississippi River adjacent to Madison County.

Venice's second settler was Daniel Lockhart, who built on a ridge that later was the site of the old Venice grain elevator.

John Anthony in 1815 began a rental service of flat-bottomed skiffs for persons wishing to row across the Mississippi.

VENICE DEVELOPED as a terminus of the old "National Way," which at the time was a 100-foot-wide wagon route from the East Coast.

The trail ended one-third-mile north of the Venice elevator site. The National Way also was known as Old Rock Road. It followed the path of what is now Broadway in Venice.

QUICKLY BECOMING a meeting place for drovers and traders on their way to St. Louis, Venice also was noted as a river crossing point.

Broadcasting pornography: who's right?

Somebody once said, "I don't know how to define pornography, but I know it when I see it." Can you imagine the trouble the same fellow would face if his eyes were closed?

You can use that analogy in considering the problem facing the Federal Communications Commission as it launches a renewed effort to clean up the nation's radio airwaves. It is an effort that is long overdue.

Radio mavens hungry for ratings, turned crude a few years ago, and began basing their programs on foundations of vulgarity. Top 40, country western, talk formats — basically a cross-section — suddenly became peppered with foul language, graphic sexual descriptions and naughty jokes.

Who among us hasn't laughed at an off-color joke? We all have. But, by the same token, who among us hasn't cringed at something we've heard on some radio station lately?

With TV we can quickly change the channel when something affronts us. But radio is different. Because of its easy accessibility, it is harder to control. And radio accessibility is nearly limitless — in virtually every room, automobile and social setting. Tackling the problem is not easy.

Making the situation more difficult is the nation's fear of censorship. We don't want to become a nation unable to express itself, so we hesitantly stick our neck out to complain.

Perhaps most troubling, no matter what our sense of decency, is the fact that the popularity of these stations is obvious. Ratings have skyrocketed, thanks in part to the impressionable young people who listen.

There are some stations, however, that don't stoop to the gutter for their programming. KMOX radio, the CBS affiliate in St. Louis, frequently touches a humorous chord, but remains totally professional. Thankfully, it remains spot the ratings.

So how do we protect ourselves and our children? Quite simply we let these stations work their feeble. Don't turn them on. Patronize others.

Not listening is the quickest way to be heard.

Grubaugh is managing editor of the Press-Record/Journal.

Bill Winter

helped establish a village at Ridge Prairie, six miles south of Edwardsville.

Delorm, a Frenchman from Cahokia, settled in 1804 at the edge of the timber, near the Big Mound (Monks Mound) at the Cahokia Mounds Historic Site.

John T. Mous moved from Kentucky to Goshen in 1805, and Madison County farmers began to ship their produce directly to the New Orleans market by using flatboats, which they loaded at Chouteau Island with corn, cattle and hogs.

THE FIRST SURVEYS of land were made in 1806, less than a year after the designation of 24 townships in this county. The first the signing in 1814 of the peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain, at Portage des Sioux on the Missouri side of the Mississippi River adjacent to Madison County.

Venice's second settler was Daniel Lockhart, who built on a ridge that later was the site of the old Venice grain elevator.

QUICKLY BECOMING a meeting place for drovers and traders on their way to St. Louis, Venice also was noted as a river crossing point.

Anthony's ferry service proved to be inadequate to meet the demand, and in 1826 Matthew Kerr began operating a ferry from the river. He named the "Brooklyn."

Was the big boat powered? By horses on a treadmill. Construction of the Merchants (Kerr) Bridge was still 64 years away.

Cavins sees exciting future for Realtors, Granite City

GRANITE CITY — Harold Cavins was elected president of the Granite City Board of Realtors at a "very exciting" time.

"There is no denying that for many years Granite City stayed stagnant," Cavins said. "But we're seeing an expansion of the city, new homes being built and a lot of other projects that signal an awakening."

Cavins, who is a general manager at Crews Realty/Better Homes and Gardens, previously served as secretary of the Board of Realtors and has served on its board of directors.

Elected at the same time as Cavins were: Barbara Wyatt, vice president; Lucinda Schmidt, secretary; Robyn Richardson, treasurer; and directors Scott Hillmer and Cathy Sues.

The other directors, elected previously, are Ray Kaegel, Ralph Abrams and Cathy Busch. The Granite City Board of Realtors has a membership of 115 Realtors.

It is important, Cavins said, that Realtors are prepared to face the challenges of the future. For that reason, the board is instituting a number of continuing education programs, while setting up advisory committees to deal with local commercial and political issues.

At the same time, he said, Realtors must continue to police themselves — hearing grievances and even imposing punishments when necessary — in order to ensure they retain the public's trust.

"We want to help the growth of Granite City," he said. "We want to make it an even better place to live and raise a family than it is today."

Cavins said, "Granite City has taken great steps toward

Harold Cavins
... president

improving its already good services, the school system has always been excellent and the people who live here are top of the line. It is such a promising area that it is hard to hide.

"There is already an influx of people from Missouri to the East Side because they are able to buy homes of equal value at two-thirds of the price," Cavins said.

"Granite City has the same or better quality, easier accessibility and a lot lower costs than St. Louis County. We have erased our image of a smoky industrial town and are moving toward becoming a bedroom-type community for St. Louis."

Realtors, he said, are going to have to work even harder to keep up with the changing times and trends. They must become experts, he said, in everything from finance to law.

"It's a business where 20 percent of the people are doing 80 percent of the business," Cavins said. "You've got to really work at it to make it work. This is not a nice, extra-income, housewife's career."

"That might have been so in the distant past. Now only the educated professional can succeed. Like a doctor or any other professional, you have to keep up with the latest developments in your field."

"You have to be constantly educated in all kinds of areas — it's difficult for part-timers to keep abreast."

Cavins said the job of the Granite City Board of Realtors is making sure that people buying or selling real estate locally are provided professional service.

"We are not a social organization that runs a clubhouse," Cavins said. "One of our new programs is Issue Mobilization, where we set up a point of contact with city, school, county and state officials. We plan to be meeting with them through the next couple of months."

Realtors, he said, have a big stake in improving the community. At the same time, he said, improving the city is going to require good Realtors.

"Ultimately we want to make Granite City, and all the good people of Granite City, believe the city is comprised of good people who have begun to update and take pride in their property," he said.

"The downtown is important, but so are West Granite, Lincoln Place, East Granite, Briarcliff, Glenview, North Granite, Nameoki and all the other parts of the city. We want to make people proud to say they are a Granite Citizen."

Brown chosen runner-up as Outstanding Caregiver

Rosemarie Brown of Granite City was recently chosen runner-up for "Outstanding Caregiver of the Year" by the Senior Legislative Forum for her exemplary service to Illinois' senior citizens.

Brown is active in numerous community groups including the Hospice of Southern Illinois, the Granite City Senior Council, the Southern Illinois Regional Senior Olympic Planning Committee and a variety of other organizations and boards.

"I salute the contributions that individuals like Rosemarie make to improve the lives of seniors," said Lt. Gov. George Ryan. The Senior Legislative Forum recognized four individuals at its 12th annual meeting in Springfield this year.

Dorothy Meishenhalter of Urbana was named "Outstanding Caregiver of the Year" and Chicago resident Dorothy Johnson was named "Outstanding Volunteer of the Year."

Also receiving "Outstanding Senior Awards" were Dr. Christine Cassel of Chicago for "Outstanding Doctor" and Marlys Morris of Rantoul for "Outstanding Nurse."

The award winners were selected from nominees identified by members of the Senior Legislative Forum, a statewide organization that addresses policy needs of the elderly.

Ryan chairs the Forum.

Hundreds of senior clubs throughout Illinois are represented in the Senior Legislative Forum.

Membership is open to anyone representing an organization that has at least 12 members who are 60 years of age or older.

For more information on the Senior Legislative Forum, contact Lt. Gov. Ryan's Senior Action Center toll-free at 1/800-252-5565.

Corporations, volunteers provide teamwork for Old Newsboys Day

What does it take to get 8,000 volunteers on more than 2,100 street corners to sell enough newspapers to raise close to $300,000 for area children's charities?

The corporations and organizations working behind the scenes on the Suburban Journals' Old Newsboys Day will tell you it takes teamwork. The more than 200 children's agencies that last year received more than $271,000 in Old Newsboys funds will add that a desire to help others also is important.

Old Newsboys Day is scheduled for Nov. 16, but the work and the planning began months ago, when Hardee's restaurants and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. again signed on to help with the event.

For the third year in a row, Hardee's is responsible for the bright, orange and blue aprons sported by Old Newsboys volunteers. In addition, the company is providing volunteers with a coupon good for a breakfast when their labors are over.

As it has for a number of years, Southwestern Bell again will supply the bright yellow identifying buttons worn by volunteers Nov. 16.

Aprons, buttons and information have to be delivered to volunteers before they take to street corners at 6 a.m. That's where United Parcel Service joins the Old Newsboys team.

Olive Garden Italian Restaurants will be helping to keep up the volunteers' spirits as they fill streets by handing out breadsticks and coffee.

When the aprons and the buttons have been taken off, it will be time to count the money.

At the 60 Boatmen's Banks throughout the area, special tellers will be designated to receive Old Newsboys Funds. Mercantile Bank and Commerce Banks have volunteered to serve as satellite depositories.

To get the funds from satellite depositories to the main depository, the men and women of Brink's Inc. and Security Armored Car Services are volunteering their services.

Obituaries

Kendall

David H. Kendall of Chesterfield, Mo., formerly of Granite City, died at 1:58 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, 1989, at his home.

Mr. Kendall retired in 1967 from the Monsanto chemical company in St. Louis.

He is survived by his wife, Joy G. (Luman) Kendall; a daughter, Mrs. Bob (Ray M.) Rogers; a son, David Mark Kendall; his mother, Ollie G. (Galloway) Kendall; and a sister, Mrs. Vasil (Anita) Effendi of Granite City.

Visitation is today from 4:30 to 9 p.m. at Schrader Funeral Home, 14950 Manchester Road (at Holloway), Ballwin. Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the West County Assembly of God Church, 13431 North Outer Forty Road, Chesterfield.

Burial will be at Sunset Hill Memorial Estates near Edwardsville. The family requests memorials to the Lafayette Sheltered Work Center, 179 Gaywood, Manchester, Mo. 63021.

School

Some of the other candidates formed little groups and I stayed independent. I'm not a politician. I just enjoyed being on the school board," Parker said.

He said he will run again in 1991 and plans more active campaigning to better his chances of winning.

Of the winners, he said, "They're all fine people and I wish them well."

Louis "Cookie" Zeffoff had 1,159 votes for seventh place. John Petish Sr., who dubbed himself "the vocational education candidate," was last with 1,037 votes.

President Jolene Terrell, who did not seek re-election to the board, was at the KC Hall. She said she would release a statement at next Tuesday's board meeting on the reasons she chose not to run again.

"I'm satisfied (with the results). I predicted some, but not others," Terrell said. She declined to elaborate.

Holt-Wilkerson, Novaceich and Zeffoff reside in the unincorporated area of the school district. Election of at least one of the three was required, and two would thus increase the number of rural residents on the seven-member board to three, one more than the legal minimum.

In Venice District 3, George Wade lost his board position to newcomer Ruby Johnson, who scored an easy victory with 273 votes, the highest total.

Incumbent Phillip White ran second with 219 votes; Alvester Salmond, also an incumbent, ran third with 202; and incumbent Kirk Gardner snared the fourth open seat with 196 votes. Wade had 151.

In Madison District 12, all four candidates ran unopposed. Incumbent James "Ed" Newsome had the highest total, 271 votes. Current board president John Hamm III ran second with 239; incumbent Billie Bosworth was third with 235; and newcomer Doyle Ankrom had 232.

Incumbent Ed Donah did not seek re-election. Hamm and Bosworth gathered with supporters at the District 12 administrative offices to await the totals. Both had several family members there.

During the evening, a cake was brought in to honor Donah for his eight years of service as a board member. He declined to cite specific reasons for his decision not to run.

REES, Norman, 69, of Fairmont City died at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, 1989, at John Cochran Veterans Administration Hospital in St. Louis. Funeral services were held Friday by the Rev. William Hipps at Kasky Colonial Mortuary, Fairview Heights. Burial was in Lake View Memorial Gardens, Belleville.

ROACH, Ruth Ann (Hubbs), 69, of Hartford, formerly of Granite City, died at 10:22 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 2, 1989, at St. Anthony's Hospital, Alton. Funeral services were conducted Saturday by the Rev. Jeff Perry at Davis Funeral Home, Granite City. Burial was at Wanda Cemetery in South Roxana.

SAUCIER, Paul V., 69, of Renton, Wash., formerly of Venice, died at 2 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 5, 1989, in a hospital in Renton. Mr. Saucier's remains were cremated in Renton and buried in Burbank, Calif. Information was provided by Davis Funeral Home, Granite City.

MILLER, Helen I. (Mefford), 84, of Granite City was pronounced dead at 11:10 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6, 1989, at the Colonades Nursing Home. The Rev. Don Wolford was the main celebrant at an 11 a.m. funeral Mass today (Thursday) at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Granite City. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery near Edwardsville. Davis Funeral Home, Granite City, was in charge of the arrangements.

HILL, Guy David, 40, of Venice died at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, 1989, in Panama City, Fla. Funeral services were held Wednesday at Werner Chapel for Funerals, Pontoon Beach. Burial was in Valley View Cemetery, Edwardsville.

LOPEZ, Chelsea Marie, 1 day old, died Monday, Oct. 30, 1989, at the Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toby (Theresa) Lopez, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, formerly of Granite City. Funeral services were conducted Monday at Holy Family Catholic Church, Granite City, by the Rev. Tom Wise. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery near Edwardsville. Mercer Mortuary, Granite City, was in charge of the arrangements.

MEINTOSH, Henry Alford, 73, of Granite City, formerly of Washington Park, died at 8:01 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, 1989, at his residence. The Rev. Walter MacPherson conducted funeral services on Wednesday at Kasky Colonial Mortuary, Fairview Heights. Burial was in Mount Carmel Cemetery in Belleville.

pieces of evidence — which may determine the cause of the fire — to the police, who will handle the investigation," Bernaix said Wednesday. He declined to say what had been found at the residence.

Police said the Oldsmobile belonged to John Mitchell of Caseyville, a son of Henrietta Mitchell. The Nova was owned by Gussie Munsterman, a 90-year-old Granite City resident and a friend of Mrs. Mitchell.

Two women leaving the International House of Pancakes at Pontoon and Names roads first saw the fire across the railroad tracks and asked someone in the restaurant to call the fire department, police said.

A man also coming out of the restaurant saw the fire and asked employees to notify the fire department.

All three people reported seeing two men standing a short distance from the restaurant; the two were laughing and pointing toward the fire.

The men left when emergency vehicles arrived, the witnesses told an officer.

Arson

probation followed by another 30 days in jail, after pleading guilty in the reckless homicide death of Yvonne Zotti of Granite City.

Zotti, 28, was killed in a traffic accident in September 1988 when Mitchell drove his car across the median on Illinois 3 and struck her car head-on.

Police authorities said they are studying a link, but are only sure of arson at this point.

"It was arson, I have no doubt," Det. Mike Gach said Wednesday. "I'm sure there was something in there."

Gach, who is investigating the fire, said he had just received the fire department's report, photographs and some other evidence.

Mrs. Mitchell, who is in her mid-40s, was staying with a relative Monday night.

"She would have been dead had she been in the house," Fire Chief Charles Bernaix said Wednesday.

"When we got there, the house was totally involved. The porch was gone and fire was coming out of the roof and windows," Bernaix said.

Larry Barr, who lives in the 4000 block of Braden Avenue, tried to get into the burning house, thinking that Mrs. Mitchell might have been inside. He told police he knew an older lady lived there, but didn't know her name.

Barr became aware of the fire while he was getting something to eat and his dog started to growl, he told police.

"I looked outside and saw the house on fire," he said. He ran to the back door of the residence, kicked open the door and started yelling for anyone inside.

Due to the heavy smoke, Barr was forced to back off after kicking in the door, he said.

Paramedic-firefighter Greg Heideberg sustained a minor injury when his leg went through the upstairs floor. He apparently didn't need medical attention, Bernaix said.

A red Nova auto and a white and tan Oldsmobile parked in the driveway at the Mitchell residence also were destroyed by the flames, the fire chief said.

"It's definitely a suspicious fire," said the chief, whose men sifted through the ruins of the house Tuesday.

"We have turned over certain pieces of evidence — which may determine the cause of the fire — to the police, who will handle the investigation," Bernaix said Wednesday. He declined to say what had been found at the residence.

Police said the Oldsmobile belonged to John Mitchell of Caseyville, a son of Henrietta Mitchell. The Nova was owned by Gussie Munsterman, a 90-year-old Granite City resident and a friend of Mrs. Mitchell.

to Leslie Morrow, a toxicologist with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. In high concentrations, it can cause headaches and nausea.

But only a small amount of the chemical leaked. By the time firemen in protective gear got to the tank car, the leak had stopped on its own.

Bill Duncan, the switchman, said he discovered the leak at about 11:30 a.m. or 11:45 a.m. and alerted trainmaster Melvin Crowley. Crowley said it was closer to 11:55 a.m. when he found out about the leak.

The Granite City Fire Department was called at 12:17 — but only after Crowley had walked several hundred yards to investigate, and only after he had called Chemtrex, a private company that advises industry on what to do in chemical emergencies, Bernaix said.

Bernaix said that even though Crowley was following the railroad's standard operating procedure, the fire department should have been called immediately.

"You don't try to put out a house fire before calling the fire department," Bernaix said.

Trittschuh, U.S. search for goals

By Mike Kelly
Correspondent

FENTON, Mo. — Steve Trittschuh and his teammates placed themselves in a precarious situation on Sunday.

The United States National Team, needing a victory over El Salvador, played to a scoreless tie in front of a capacity crowd at Soccer Park.

The tie leaves the Americans needing a win at Trinidad and Tobago on Nov. 19 in their final World Cup qualifying game. The U.S. and Trinidad are tied for second place in the North and Central American and Caribbean Region (CONCACAF) identical 3-1-3 records for nine points. The top two teams qualify for the 24-team World Cup next summer in Italy. Costa Rica (11 points) has already qualified.

The Americans, who looked anxious at times and hesitant in others, tried desperately to score a goal. They outshot El Salvador (0-4-2) 12-5 and had 13 corner kicks to only three for the visitors.

But poor timing, solid defense and a strong wind in the second half stymied the U.S. attack. Trittschuh was right in the middle of the action throughout the afternoon. He came very close to scoring a couple of goals, especially in the first half when the U.S. had the wind advantage, but his powerful header was handled by goalkeeper Carlos Rivera.

It was a frustrating performance by an American team which hasn't scored a goal in 208 minutes. Their last goal came against El Salvador in a 1-0 victory Sept. 17 in Honduras when Hugo Perez scored at the 62:00 mark.

"Our strategy was to take the wind in the first half," said Trittschuh of Sunday's game. "We thought that by scoring first, it would force (El Salvador) to open up their attack. But, despite our pressure, we didn't get the right header." El Salvador, which is preparing itself for the 1992 Olympics, brought a young team to St. Louis. Despite a defensive strategy, the Salvadorians did create some scoring opportunities. U.S. keeper Tony Meola was tested a couple of times in the second half when El Salvador had the wind at its back. He stopped Jamie Rodriguez on a direct kick from 35 yards at the 50:00 mark. Six minutes later, a free kick by Oscar Arbizu from 55 yards just missed slipping in under the crossbar.

"Our team came in ready to play," said El Salvador coach George Kiril Dojcinovski through a translator. "We're happy with the tie, but we also had a pretty good chance of winning the match. I won't except the excuse that the Americans were flat."

"They did a good job of following their game plan, but I felt they just did a poor job of handling the ball in the midfield area. The Americans still have the chance of qualifying for the World Cup. The task isn't impossible, but it will be very difficult to win at Trinidad."

"Take our performance in the Olympic trials a couple of years ago. We entered that game needing three goals to beat Canada. And we scored three times (a 3-0 U.S. victory on May 30, 1987, at Soccer Park). We've got the people who can score goals on this team, but we need to finish our plays."

"And the only way to do that is by putting the ball into the back of the net. But it's very frustrating not scoring of late. El Salvador didn't do anything different from the last time we played them. And we're not questioning our offense, because the philosophy is solid and the goals will eventually come."

But is the American team growing rabbit ears from the criticism from the media and the general public?

"We don't take that criticism to heart," said defender Mike Windischmann. "If you look at our overall record (17-6-3), you'll see that we've assembled some quality numbers against quality competition. We know what the situation will be at Trinidad, but we must score first to open up the match. They realize a tie is in their favor and I'm sure they'll play a defensive game."

"We're working pretty well together," said Trittschuh. "Now we must regroup and fulfill our dream. We've worked too hard to let this thing slip away."

Soph gridders provide hope for future

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Although the Warrior football team picked up three wins this year — the most since 1986 — there is always room for improvement. And the 1989 sophomore team is hope for the future.

The sophomores, coached by Gus Lignoul and Al Lewis Jr., went 7-2, with two defeats coming by a total of nine points. Lignoul said there are a number of players who should be able to help on the varsity level next fall.

"We knew this was a pretty good group at the beginning of the season," said Lignoul. "They had played pretty well as freshmen. I think they were 3-2 even though we missed half of the (1988) year because of the strike. And we knew we had three pretty good backs in Mike Vaughn, Billy Van Buskirk and Damon Yates."

What he didn't know was who would play quarterback.

"The freshman quarterback from 1988 didn't come out and did another kid who we thought might play," said Lignoul.

"So we decided to take a look at Mike Mowell. He probably improved more over the course of one year than any kid I've ever seen. Mike ran the option extremely well for us."

Operating behind an offensive line made up of ends Larry Curry and Jason Ellis, tackles Eric Mendenhall and Larry Earney, guards Chris Hoffstot, Doug Norton and Brian Green, and center Jerry Heubuschman, the Warriors averaged 164 yards rushing per game. Earney was the biggest lineman at 6-2, 200 pounds.

Vaughn scored seven touchdowns and ran for 634 yards (6.75 per carry). Van Buskirk, the brother of Warrior soccer star John Van Buskirk, averaged 5.3 yards per carry, including a 45-yard touchdown run against SLUH. Yates, the son of Warrior varsity coach Ron Yates, averaged five yards per carry and scored six touchdowns.

"But, defense was our strength," said Lignoul. "We usually gave up a touchdown or less. Van Buskirk and Vaughn were great linebackers. And the line of John Roulanaitis, Larry Curry, Chris Hoffstot and John Rickert did a fine job. Jerry Heubuschman, Shawn Gooch and Doug Norton also were good outside."

Van Buskirk was the kicker and didn't miss an extra point. He also kicked the winning field goal in a 3-0 win over Belleville East in the final game.

After opening with a 14-7 win over DeSmet, the Warriors lost a 17-14 thriller to Belleville West at home on Sept. 14.

"That was probably as good a sophomore game as I've ever seen," said Lignoul.

Unfortunately for the Warriors, a face mask violation on what would have been the final play gave West 15 yards and room enough to kick a 45-yard field goal after time had expired. Granite City then beat Collinsville 13-6 on Sept. 21 before a big 8-0 win at East St. Louis on Sept. 30.

"We thought we could win there," Lignoul said. "We just had to stop the big plays and we did. We recovered an onside kick to start the second half and Chris Peeler scored on a one-yard run. That and the Belleville East game were the biggest wins."

Granite City beat Vianney 14-7 before a 13-7 loss at SLUH, then ended with three wins, 21-6 over Edwardsville, 27-6 over Alton and 3-0 over East. Yates caught a 61-yard touchdown pass in the Alton game.

"We were about three plays from going 9-0," said Lignoul. "I would have been satisfied with 6-3 when the year started, so 7-2 was a good season for us. And I think Ron Yates did a good thing letting this team stay together. It would have been very easy for him to take three or four kids away from us full-time to help the varsity. But he was thinking of the whole program and we appreciated that."

The sophomores started the year with 32 players and ended with 28.

"That's not too bad," said Lignoul. "You usually lose more than that. I think kids like Yates, Vaughn, Van Buskirk and Curry can really help the varsity next year."

The sophomores tied with Belleville East and Belleville West with one loss each in the Southwestern Conference.

Park's sports banquet Tuesday

Cardinal general manager Dal Maxvill and KMOX sportscaster Mike Kelly will be featured speakers at the Granite City Park District's annual Sports Awards Banquet on Tuesday.

The banquet will begin at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. Trophies will be presented to winners of the park's baseball and softball leagues, as well as the park tennis tournament. Other special awards will also be presented.

Maxvill, a Granite City native, is a regular guest at the banquet. Kelly, a Dupon native, has been at KMOX a year and a half. He previously worked at WDW in Champaign and two stations in Carbondale. He received a bachelor of arts in radio-television from SIU-Carbondale in 1984. The Illinois Broadcasters Association presented Kelly with the Silver Dome Award for best coverage of a local sports event in a medium market in 1988.

Hall of Fame taking nominations for 1990 inductions

By Al Barnes
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — The eligible age for induction into the Granite City Sports Hall of Fame has been reduced from 40 to 35.

That decision was reached at Monday's meeting of the Hall of Fame committee. The committee also voted to raise the number of nominees each member is permitted to name from three to five. There will be 15 inductees, plus ties, to be inducted at the fourth annual banquet on May 18, 1990. There will also be two teams inducted, one from the high school ranks.

"The Hall of Fame building is coming along real good," reported committee chairman Frank Kraus. The entire building is now under roof and during the rest of the school year the boys and girls in the vocational class will be able to complete all the necessary work needed so the Hall can be opened and dedicated before the 1990 football season opens.

"I ask all sports fans who have supported the Hall of Fame to wholeheartedly to drive by the high school campus and observe the work already completed. They will be well pleased."

The building is located on the campus just south of the entrance to Memorial Stadium, directly across from Wilson Park.

In order to encourage the general public to participate in the selection of members, the committee also voted to print a ballot for all fans to clip and mail to Tom Schooley, 2038 Edison Ave., Granite City, Ill., 62040.

That's a winner!

As the winter sports season approaches, it's time for one final look at the thrilling moments from last weekend's state soccer tournament. The Warriors triumph was yet another for head coach Gene Baker along with assistants Mel Bunting and Dave Ames. But mostly it belonged to the players. The 1989 Warriors overcame injuries and academic problems to dominate the 18th annual state soccer tournament and give Granite City its ninth title. Some will be back next year, some will play college soccer and some may never play again, but last weekend was one none of them will ever forget.

THE CELEBRATION began in a pile at midfield when the championship game was over.

EX-WARRIORS greeted the 1989 team minutes before the opening kickoff Saturday night.

GOALIES Brent Broshaw (left) and Ron O'Sha combined for 18 shutouts this season.
